

NYC Regional Neuroendocrine Tumor Patient Conference

Thursday, November 10, 2016
8:30am - 4:00pm

Hosted by Neuroendocrine Tumor Research Foundation & Montefiore Medical Center
Robbin's Auditorium, Albert Einstein College of Medicine,
Leo Forchheimer Medical Science Building, 1855 Eastchester Road, Bronx, NY 10461

Please join us for this FREE conference to learn more about the latest developments in research and clinical care for patients with neuroendocrine cancers. We will be bringing together distinguished medical professionals from the New York City region and beyond, such as:

- Dr. Steven Libutti, Montefiore Einstein Center for Cancer Care
- Dr. David Metz, Perelman School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania
- Dr. Diane Reidy, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center
- Dr. Richard Warner, Mount Sinai Hospital
- Dr. Edward Wolin, Montefiore Einstein Center for Cancer Care

Presentations will touch on key issues for both patients and caregivers, including advances in therapies, surgery options, immunotherapy research, PRRT treatment, symptom management, and interactive panels.

REGISTER: netrf.org/events/patient-caregiver-educational-events